It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

REPAIRS ON STATE HOUSE.

In every biennial report which it has been my honor to make I have had occasion to call attention to the condition of the Capitol building.

In my last biennial report I submitted the finding of Professor Ricker, Dean of the College of Engineering of the University of Illinois, and President of the State Board of Examiners of Architects. This finding of Professor Ricker showed the Capitol building to be very badly out of repair. Acting on this finding and recommendation of Professor Ricker, and on your Excellency's message, which recommended the passage of an appropriation bill for repairs, the Forty-third General Assembly appropriated $235,833.00 and named the Board of Commissioners of State Contracts as commissioners to make said repairs. Your Excellency, however, saw fit to veto said measure.

I desire now to say that the condition of the Capitol building is much worse than it was then. My only object in calling attention to this matter is that I believe it to be my duty as custodian of the building to continue to apprise the proper authorities of the condition of the building. The walls are becoming very badly damaged from water, and I am informed by persons experienced in such matters, that every year's delay adds many thousands of dollars to the cost of repairs. Having again performed what I conceive to be my duty in the premises by calling attention of the proper authorities to the condition of the Capitol, I will dismiss the subject for another two years.

CORPORATIONS.

A comparison of reports made by the Secretary of State for a number of years immediately preceding this report will show that the strong tendency of the business interests of this State is to incorporate.

The corporation laws of Illinois are in many respects faulty and defective. Complaints come to this office almost daily of the abuses of corporate franchise and power, both by domestic and foreign corporations. Both the domestic and foreign corporation laws, in my judgment, need amendment, and slight amendment to them will prevent many abuses.

Under the general domestic incorporation law, a corporation may be formed for any lawful purpose, except banking, insurance, real estate brokerage and the operation of railroads (the railroad incorporation act being a separate act), and the business of loaning money. There is no particular formula prescribed by the statute for stating the object of a corporation, and that class of corporations which desire to do an illegitimate business, in stating their object, in many instances, use terms intended to cover the real object of their business rather than to clearly state the same, and often make such a statement of their object as to mislead the Secretary's office as to what business they really intend to follow.

There ought to be such an amendment to the corporation laws of this State as will allow the Secretary of State to examine, under oath, persons offering to incorporate in this State, sufficiently to disclose the real character of the business in which the corporation is to engage, and his interrogatories and the answers thereto should be preserved as a part of the corporate organization and should be regarded as a limitation upon the power of the corporation to do business other than that disclosed by such interrogatories.

He should also have the power, at any time, to examine the officers of any corporation, under oath, touching the character of business which they are transacting, and if their answers disclose that they are transacting a business in excess of their charter, he should be required to submit a copy of his examination and such answers to the Attorney General, with a request to proceed against such corporation violating the provisions of its charter.

The law should also be amended so as to require the report of commissioners appointed to organize a corporation, in the report to the Secretary of State, to state under oath the amount of capital stock actually paid in to said corporation, by whom contributed, and whether contributed in money or property, and if in property, the property contributed should be appraised by said commissioners and the appraised value thereof should be stated by them under oath.

It should also be stated what disposition the incorporators intend to make of any stock subscribed for and not paid in at the time of organization, and in each annual report of such corporation after organization it should be required to make a financial statement showing the amount of capital paid in, the assets of the corporation and its liabilities, in addition to what the law already requires such annual report to contain.

Foreign corporations, under the present law, are admitted to this State upon very easy terms, and there is virtually no requirement of such corporations other than that they shall limit the exercise of their powers to such objects as are permitted to corporations of this State and shall observe the laws of the State.

Such corporations should be required to state in their application for admission the amount of their capital stock, the amount of capital paid in, of what the property of such corporation consists, the character of business such corporation intends to transact in the State of Illinois, the proportion of its capital stock represented by its property located and business transacted in this State, and what proportion of its business is to be transacted elsewhere, and at what place such business is to be transacted.

The Secretary of State should also be permitted to examine, under oath, the officers of any corporation making application for admission to this State as to the real character of the business in which such corporation intends to engage, and no corporation should be admitted to do a business in this State which is contrary to the law or public policy of the State, and the certificate of authority granted by the Secretary of State should state specifically the business which such corporation is authorized to transact, and penalties should be imposed upon any corporation for the transaction of any business not disclosed by its application or answers to the examination by the Secretary of State and stated in its certificate of authority.

Authority should be given to the Secretary of State, after the admission of any foreign corporation, to examine its officers, under oath, for the purpose of ascertaining the real character of business in which such corporation is engaged and the proportion of its business actually transacted in the State of Illinois, and if such examination discloses that such corporation is doing an unlawful business in the State, he should be required to transmit a copy of such examination and answers thereto to the Attorney General, whose duty it should be to proceed against such corporation for a violation of its charter and to enforce penalties against it.

With the amendments here suggested power would be given to exclude from transacting business in this State many illegitimate concerns which are incorporated in other states for the purpose of prey-ing upon the people of this State with fraudulent corporate schemes, and I therefore recommend such amendments to the laws as are here suggested as being highly necessary to the protection of the legitimate business interests of the State.

ELECTION LAWS.

I desire to call the attention of the General Assembly once more to the cumbersome and altogether unsatisfactory provision of our election law in relation to deciding contested nominations in electoral districts of the State greater than a county, and quote from my report of 1902, as follows:

"Section 10, of the act of 1901 (paragraph 297, chapter 46, R. S.), providing for the filing of objections to nomination certificates, puts no limit on the time for filing such objections. I think that a reasonable time should be given for filing objections after the time for filing nominations has expired; but that the time for filing objections should be so limited as to leave a reasonable time for notifying candidates objected to, for securing witnesses, preparing the case, hearing and determining the objections, and transmitting the result to the Secretary of State before the time when he is required by the statutes to certify nominations to county clerks. As the law now stands, where several such cases are pending at the same time, and all within a few days of the election, it is impossible for this office to fulfill all the requirements of the statutes with regard to such contests and to certify nominations to county clerks. Further, some less cumbrous and less expensive method than that provided in this section should be devised for the hearing of objections to nominations of candidates in electoral districts greater than a county and less than the State. The tribunal provided by this section for hearing contests in such districts (including all congressional, senatorial and judicial districts greater than a county) consists of the county judges of all the counties composing such district. Among the many bad features of this method I call attention simply to the fact that any voter dissatisfied with the result of a nominating convention in the Third Appellate District, for instance, may, by filing in the office of the Secretary of State any trivial objection, compel the Secretary to call together the county judges of 35 counties to hear and determine the merits of a political controversy between two parties or two factions of the same party. No provision whatever is made for the payment of expenses or per diem to the 35 county judges so assembled. All this may be done without a particle of expense to the objector. It seems to be an act encouraging litigation at the expense of the county judges of the State. They should be relieved of the burden and some simpler and less expensive method devised for settling such contests."

To this quotation from a former report I wish to add that in such districts composed of two, four or any even number of counties, it frequently occurs that the county judges are unable to decide the matter for the reason that the board is equally divided. Besides, the judges coming from the same counties that compose the district in which there is a contest, frequently find themselves in the predicament of having to determine judicially the merits of a contest involving their own personal and political interests. In my opinion the law should be so amended as to have all these contests for district offices decided by the State Canvassing Board.

I think the method of making nominations by petition, as provided for in Section 5 of the act of 1891 (par. 292, ch. 46, R. S.), should be more clearly defined. As the act stands, no one is made responsible for a nomination petition. No one is required to vouch for the authenticity of the signatures nor for the method of obtaining them. Where a nomination is made in open convention, where all the proceedings are public and reported in the daily press and known of all men, the certificate of such nomination will not be filed unless signed and sworn to by the presiding officer and secretary of the convention. But any one, without even disclosing his identity, may file a nomination petition, and no one vouches in any way for the authenticity of the names attached or the method of obtaining them. The circulator of each such petition, or the person filing it, should be required to attach his certificate, subscribed and sworn to, that the names are, according to his best knowledge and belief, the genuine signatures of the persons purporting to sign the petition and obtained without fraud or misrepresentation.

Section 7 of the same act (par. 294, ch. 46, R. S.) requires that nomination papers shall be filed 30 days before the election with the Secretary of State or county clerk, and 15 days before with city, town and village clerks. I think the time should be limited to 60 days before election in the first two cases, and 30 days in the other. Nominations are usually made from three to six months before the election. The earlier filing will accommodate election officers and give more time for the settlement of controversies in contested cases.

I think, too, the law should be more explicit in regard to what constitutes a vacancy in nominations. Section 9 of the act of 1891 (par. 296, ch. 46, R. S.) provides only for vacancies caused by death or withdrawal of the nominee or the insufficiency of his certificate of nomination. I think other causes for vacancy should be recognized, such as removal from the State or electoral district, insanity and ineligibility to the office sought.

Section 23 of the same act (par. 310, ch. 46, R. S.), relating to the matter of marking ballots, is defective. Where more than one person is to be elected to the same office (as Representatives in the General Assembly, University Trustees and similar cases) the elector who attempts to vote what is called a "split ticket" rarely succeeds in making it possible for election judges to determine the intention of the voter. This section should be made more explicit, so that any voter may know what his marks on the ballot signify and so that election judges may be able to give to these marks a legal, just and uniform interpretation.

The objections urged herein are simply a few stumbling blocks which present themselves to election officers at each recurring election. It seems to me that they may be easily removed and without making any violent changes in our present code of election laws. I have enumerated only a few instances in which slight changes will be productive of large results in the practical administration of the election laws, in so far as relate to the duties of county clerks and of this department.

STATE CONTRACTS.

This department has frequently called attention to the unsatisfactory conditions in the law in relation to the letting of State contracts, especially that part of the law that relates to the letting of contracts for doing the public printing and binding. The law should be so amended as to allow all classes of printing to be open to bids from all parts of the State (with perhaps the exception of the printing of bills, daily journal and synopsis for the legislature) instead of being confined, as it is in some of the classes, to Springfield alone. The confining of printing to the city of Springfield has a tendency to breed combinations in bidding. Again the printing ought not to be let by contract for two years. The law ought to be so amended that bids may be taken upon any separate piece of work for printing or binding, and the Commissioners of State Contracts ought to have the right to group a number of the minor reports and let them to the lowest bidder. By this method we would not only get competition in bidding, but competition in the work. One of the results that would be obtained would be that the State printing and binding would be done within a reasonable time. Under the present system some of the reports are two years old before they are printed. It is not unusual for a report to be in the hands of a printer from a year to eighteen months. The House Journal of the Forty-third General Assembly was not ready for distribution for more than a year after the adjournment of the General Assembly, although every effort had been made to get it out. The volume of printing was so great that it was impossible to do so without neglecting other work that was absolutely needed.

The law provides for a printer expert and an assistant printer expert. This force is entirely inadequate to do the work with the volume of printing that has to be done. This department has had to pay out of its contingent funds the salary of two persons to assist the printer expert. The law should be so amended as to pay the printer expert and his assistant printer expert a yearly salary, and a clerk, proof-reader and janitor should be provided for the office, each of whom should be upon a yearly salary.

Periodicals form the largest proportion of this number, though many miscellaneous pamphlets have been bound during this term.

There have been delivered to the Law Library 217 volumes of Supreme and Appellate Court reports, and 79 volumes of session laws of the various states. Fifteen volumes of session laws have been returned to this library, according to agreement.

The proof-reading of the new dictionary catalogue occupied the greater part of 1903, and was completed early in 1904. The catalogue has been distributed to all the public libraries of the State, to State libraries, and to many university libraries throughout the United States.

Since the issue of this catalogue, material has been prepared for a supplement, and is now ready for the printer.

Since the removal of the State Historical Library from the north room adjoining the State Library to new and larger quarters, that room has been furnished for a reference room. This will greatly facilitate the work of the library. Mention must also be made of the purchase of two 60-tray card catalogue cases, which were much needed.

Continued effort is being made to complete the file of Illinois public documents. Through the courtesy of the Librarian of Congress several hundred duplicates of Illinois documents were sent to this library, and many gaps were filled from this collection.

Respectfully submitted,

MAUDE THAYER,

Assistant Librarian.

PRINTER EXPERT'S REPORT.

To the Commissioners of State Contracts:

GENTLEMEN—The work of this department is in good condition, being more nearly caught up with than at any time for several years. Work is being completed rapidly, and there is ground for the belief that it will be fully caught up by the first of January, 1905. The arrangements for first-class printing (legislative work) are such that it is believed that bills can be printed and delivered without delay during the approaching session of the General Assembly.

No doubt the work will from time to time again fall behind, this being due to the fact that at certain seasons so many reports are filed at almost the same time that it is impossible to handle them to advantage with a printing outfit such as the amount of the work justifies a contractor in providing. Allowing a portion of the work to be set by the modern machine method of composition has to some extent relieved the congestion, and it will no doubt be necessary at an early day to release all State printing from the restrictions of hand composition. Some minor changes in the present printing law, to make it conform to present-day methods of printing, may be necessary at the approaching session of the Legislature, although the ultimate solution of the problem of how to get good printing done as promptly as may be necessary without unreasonable cost, must be in the method pursued by the United States government and several of the other states—the establishment of a complete and well-equipped public printing office.

The detailed statement of printing done for the several State officers, departments and boards, accompanying this report, shows a marked increase in the volume of the work over that of the preceding two years, amounting approximately to about 25 per cent. This, and the further fact that the new contracts have been let at a higher price than has prevailed for several years past, will no doubt be given full consideration in fixing the amount of the appropriations for the next two years.

Respectfully submitted,

H. W. JONES,

State Printer Expert.
